OHIO COUNCIL OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN

ORGANIZE STATE COUNCIL TO MAN EACH VOTING PRECINCT

Conference Favors Enlarging Central Committees—Mrs. Wilma Sinclair Le Van, of Steubenville, Republican National Committeewoman, To Name Committees To Complete Organization—Women Will Carry the Party To Victory.

First step in a program to organize intensively Republican women in every precinct in the state was taken Thursday at a conference of approximately 350 Republican women leaders at the Desher.

The gathering voted unanimously to organize the Ohio Council of Republican Women, Inc., and authorized Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan, Steubenville, Republican national committeewoman, to name committees to complete organization. There are more than 100 charter members.

Senator Simeon D. Fess assailed insurgents in public office, declaring the "easy" thing to do in public office is "to kick over the traces" and thereby "get on the first page of all the newspapers." Teamwork must be maintained as party government is the only means by which public opinion can be expressed, he said.

Maurice Maschoke, Cleveland, Republican national committeeman, lauded organization plans of Mrs. LeVan, declaring she had "all the necessary attributes to insure success." Senator Fess will be renominated and reelected and the entire party ticket will win in 1928, he said, expressing the hope the Republican national convention again will come to Cleveland that year.

Prosperous condition of the country under Republican administration has made many persons forget the importance of Republican party principles, said Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton Warren chairman of women's activities in the Republican state campaign in 1926. She is heartily in favor of Mrs. LeVan's plan or organization she said, and is ready to "join the army of followers."

Insurgents who masquerade under the guise of Republicans are similar to persons who in business "obtain money under false pretenses," State Chairman Fred W. Warner, Marion, said. Mr. Warner assailed the tendency to "take government out of politics," declaring it robbed government of popular interest. Primaries are devitalizing to parties, but conventions would remedy the situation, he said.

The gathering by more than two-to-one vote indorsed a bill by Senator Nettie B. Loughead, Republican, Cincinnati, now before the elections committee of the senate, proposing to enlarge the size of the state central committees from 22 to 44 members, thus permitting the election of one man and one woman from each district, instead of just one member per district, usually a man, as at present.

Resolutions on the death of the late Mrs. Anna S. Todd, Youngstown, and the late Mrs. John Gordon Battelle, Columbus, both prominent in Republican political activities, were adopted. They were presented by Mrs. Elizabeth C. T. Miller, Cleveland.

"Women in any state at any time will be the determining factor in the outcome of an election," Senator Fess said, lauding the organization plans of Mrs. LeVan.

"The principles of the party must be right to attract the women voters. The fact that seven-tenths of the women voted the Republican ticket in 1920 and almost an equal number in 1924 is due to the fact the Republican platform appealed to women's minds."

"The easy thing to do in public life is to kick over the traces, for the official who does so is sure to go on the land. That is a tempting bit of publicity that all of us like more or less. But you never get anywhere by such tactics."

Altho there are 52 senators on the Republican side of the senate there is a certain group which are constantly breaking over and voting with the Democrats, he continued.

"This senate was not Republican altho the Republicans will get the responsibility for its actions," Senator Fess continued. "The insurgents nine times out of 10 voted with the Democrats, thus destroying all responsibility tending toward the coalition system which is destroying France."

"I should like to see every voting precinct in the state manned with a capable thoro organization of Republican women," Mrs. LeVan said.

"I should like to see the young voters of the state organized and headed by a group of their own number. I should like to see a Republican Women's periodical in Ohio such as are in 15 other states.

"I should like to see the Women's Republican clubs of Ohio federated with officers elected and capable committees appointed. I should like to see a speakers' bureau established where trained speakers would be available at all times and where educational programs could be obtained and where information could be obtained.

"I should like to see the status of Republican women of Ohio legalized in party organizations as they have been in 12 other states of the Union. I should like to see a permanent club house erected for the use of Republican women."

"There are a number of movements which have been established during recent years tending to undermine and destroy the Republican principle of governmental affairs," Mr. Warner said. "Not the least of these is the direct primary. By it, an effort is made to prevent representative Republicans gathering together in such meetings as we have here today to determine what the policy and principles of that party shall be."

BUFFALO LIVE STOCK DEALERS ON THE CARPET

Method Used by Them is to be Investigated by the Government.

All of the large commission firms on the Buffalo market except the farmers-owned producer cooperative are cited in a call issued by the United States department of agriculture to answer charges of alleged unfair, unjustly discriminatory and deceptive practices or devices in selling livestock on that market, says Harry J. Briggs, manager of the Pickaway Livestock Cooperative association.

The citation alleges that the firms have refused to show livestock to prospective bidders; have used the practice of "weighing up" livestock to themselves and reselling, thus collecting two commissions for what is in reality one transaction; and have refused to sell at the highest bid.

The case is of interest to livestock producers of nearly every Ohio county since much of the stock from this state is sold on the market, according to F. G. Ketner, director of livestock marketing for the Ohio Farm Bureau federation.

Mr. Ketner, who is also secretary of the Buffalo cooperative firm and H. S. Ballard attorney for cooperative livestock interests of Ohio have asked permission to present evidence at the hearing which is announced in the citation for Buffalo on Thursday, March 10. While the cooperative has made no formal complaint its leaders say that they have evidence to support the allegations of the Packer and Stockyards administration in that firms mentioned have, at times, refused to deal with cooperative organizations on that market.

Unredeemed Currency Aids French in Road Building

Paris, France.—Good roads are being built in France out of the profits from the wear and tear on paper money.

Forty million francs of the substitute currency printed by chambers of commerce soon after the war have never been reclaimed. This was money of small denominations printed to supply small change in the days of inflation. Much of the money was lost and destroyed, some was carried away by travelers and some was presented too late for redemption.

The government ruled that part of the profit that accrued to the chambers of commerce in this manner must go to road building.

A SPECIALISTWAS KNOCKED*A TWISTER

Some few months since a former resident of Pickaway County who is living in Franklin County, went to Columbus to consult a specialist in regard to an aching jaw; after thoroughly examining the patient the "learned doctor," diagnosed his trouble as emanating from defective teeth and gave him the name of another specialist for the removal of defective teeth before he would consent to treat the patient; a lengthy argument between patient and specialist ensued at the conclusion of which the patient said, "why, me good man I do not need a specialist and removed the full set of molars from his mouth."

The teeth were fitted to the patient's mouth by Dr. Hartley R. Clarke about 30 years since and are so natural looking that they fooled the "learned doctor."

Dr. Clarke is one of the oldest dental surgeons in this section of Buckeye.

CORNER STONELAYING

Columbus, March 10.—Cornerstone of the new Woman's Building at Town and Front streets was laid Wednesday afternoon with impressive ceremonies following an auto parade through the downtown section, headed by the American Legion Band.

Speakers at the ceremonies included: Mrs. C. B. Ross, president of the Board of Trustees of the Columbus Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc.; Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, Dayton; Mayor Thomas and Mrs. Vic Donahey.

In all, there were 111 automobiles in the parade, which formed on Fifth street, between Gay and State. The machines traveled north on Fourth street to Chestnut, to High, to Town, to Front.

"The club woman," according to Mrs. Patterson, "represents a type of thinking that is revolutionizing business and the home. She has changed the old cultural club to a forum for the discussion of women's business, which is the home and its relation to society."

Other speakers were Mrs. Donahey, Mayor Thomas, Mrs. Ross, Rabbi Jacob Tarhish, James A. Maddox, Mrs. Jerome Kohn and Rev. M. H. Lichter.

Women members of the legislature were guests at the luncheon given at Lazarus' Wednesday noon in honor of Mrs. Patterson. The building is to cost $250,000.

TORONTO LIQUOR BILL DRAFTED

Toronto, Ont., March 9.—(U.P.)—Visitors from the United States, it was understood today, will be able to purchase any quantity of liquor or beer from authorized dealers under the terms of the new liquor control bill which Premier Ferguson was to introduce into the provincial Legislature this afternoon.
The bill was expected to provide for the issuance of purchase permit cards not only to residents of Ontario but to tourists and transients so that visitors from the United States would have rights under the law equal to those enjoyed by citizens of the province.
Sale of beer and light wines by bottles, clubs or any vendor other than the provincial government would be prohibited, according to the expectation current here. All sales of alcoholic beverages would be by bottle and through the medium of government agencies.

LOVERS MARRY AFTER 52 YEARS

Parted Half a Century Ago When Man Went West to Make His Fortune.

Sloux Falls, S. D.—When Victor Handley, a rancher of the Reliance district of the Missouri river section of central South Dakota, returned the other day from Canada with a bride, sweethearts of 52 years ago were united. When they parted in Canada more than half a century ago Handley set out for the United States to make a fortune for himself and the sweetheart of his youth. He thought it would not be long until he could send for the girl who had won his heart.
He became a pioneer of the American West and found that he had tackled a man-sized job, although he was a mere youth at the time. No one knows but himself how hard he worked in the effort to accumulate the comparatively small sum required to establish a home, so he could send for his Canadian sweetheart.

Battle for Home Slow.
But things ran against him with the passing of the years and he became rough and swarthy in the battle for a home and bride. After years had elapsed without his being able to accumulate enough wealth to provide a home for his intended bride he came to the conclusion that she had wearied of waiting for him. In the few letters he wrote her during the early years of their separation he was ashamed to tell her he had not yet met with success.

Then came the years of meager success and mature reflection. He recently mustered up enough courage to write to his old home in Canada, and was informed that his sweetheart of 52 years ago had waited eight long years for him to send for her so they could be married, and had then abandoned all hope of hearing from her girlhood love and had married another man.

Hears Sweetheart is a Widow.
The South Dakota rancher also was informed that her husband had died some years ago. He lost no time in writing direct to his old sweetheart and the romance of 52 years ago was renewed. Recently they married and the bride has taken up her home with her husband on his South Dakota ranch. They are said to be as happy as though the marriage had taken place when they were in the flower of their youth.

Columbus, March 9.—The first man in Columbus to take advantage of the decision of the United States Supreme Court which held that convictions in mayors' courts under the state law which gives them part of the proceeds of fines for violation of prohibition law are unconstitutional, is Alexander "Smoky" Hobbs, colored politician.
Hobbs was fined $200 and costs on Jan. 1 by Justice of the Peace Kuhn of Bexley for alleged violation of the prohibition laws.
Attorney Edward J. Greely, in filing suit for Hobbs, pointed out that justice of the peace courts would come under the Supreme Court ruling as well as mayors' courts.

The case will be heard Wednesday before Judge Kinkead in the Court of Common Pleas. Hobbs is being held at the County jail.

"My Affiliation with the First National has been just like blood relationship," said a depositor the other day.

That expresses our ideal of real banking service better than any other words we can think of. Rightly applied, banking service is very much a personal service and requires a definite, individual interest upon the part of the banker.

If you like that conception of banking you would find the friendly atmosphere of the First National very pleasing and our service quite efficient.

Whole Dollar Spent,

One of the sequences of a cinema comedy Monty Banks is making at the Hal Roach studio centers around a wedding. Among the extras on the set during the filming of this scene was a woman of the type who has "seen better days" and gives notice of this fact to the public by commenting audibly and wonderingly upon almost everything she sees around a studio.

With the other extras she was called upon to throw handfuls of rice after Monty and his leading lady, Jean Arthur.

Monty's ear caught the remark and he turned, grinning broadly.

"Oh, yes, indeed," he told the extra, "there is nothing cheap about my pictures. Any time I can get realism in rice for $1 you just watch me do it."—Los Angeles Times.

ONE HALF OF 1926 CORN CROP
STILL ON HAND

Small Amount Wheat Held,
Farmers Holding Twenty
Per Cent of Potato Crop.

Owing to the poor quality of last year's corn crop the treasurer estimated that only 73 per cent of the crop is salable.

The lack of a sufficient number of livestock which followed the large crop of 1925, is given as one reason for the heavy carry-over. Reports also indicate that more than the usual amount of the crop is being held for sale as grain.

The wheat estimate held on farms is rather small and reflects the opinion that wheat has been at a fair price and has been sold freely while corn and oats have been held back.

Potato stocks are estimated at 20 per cent still on farms. This is still on farms. 17es ETAOIN SHRD rather a low figure considering 23, 28, 36 and 38 per cent for the past several seasons.

POULTRY FLOCK
DEMONSTRATORS
GIVE AVERAGES

The flock of 136 English White Leghorns of Mrs. Florence Fetherolf, made the highest record of the light breeds with an average of 20.9 eggs per bird.

The White Leghorn flock of 691 hens, of Mary C. McKenzie won second place with an average of 18 eggs per bird.

The Rhode Island Red flock of 107 hens of Mary Shortridge won first place among the heavy breeds with an average of 10.37 eggs per bird.

R. J. Ballard's flock of 264 White Leghorns won first place among the Calendar record cooperators with an average of 17.76 per bird.

BARLEY, OATS PROFITABLE
GRAIN CROPS

Spring wheat generally less profitable than barley or oats in Ohio except in the northern two tiers of counties.

It may be wise for farmers who did not get their wheat planted last fall to divide their acreage of spring sown grain crops between oats and spring wheat if they do not care to increase the normal acreage of oats too much, Wallace E. Hanger, extension specialist in farm crops at the Ohio State university, believes. The actual cash returns of either barley, oats or spring wheat will probably not differ a great deal in the northern counties.

Marquis and Blue Ribbon spring wheats have shown themselves most dependable in tests at the Ohio experiment station. The Marquis is a smooth wheat and Blue Ribbon is bearded. Progress spring wheat, a variety perfected from the same parent as Blue Ribbon, has shown promise. It is more rust resistant.

Seedmen in northern Ohio have made a special effort to import good spring wheat for seed, Mr. Hanger observes. The seed improvement association in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, are in touch with good spring seed wheat grown in their states.

Spring wheat does best in cool climates. It will germinate at low temperatures and make a good growth before the ground warms up. If the seed is sown in March, or very early in April, the seed is getting the kind of a start it should have. If it is planted later than the middle of April the chances for a good crop are reduced.

Other states have found that two bushels of drilled seed an acre give the best yields. An application of 200 pounds of 2-16-2 or 3-12-4 fertilizer will give the crop that extra push during the cool weather that helps so much.

During February the prices of the things the farmer buys were nearly on a level with prices of the products he sells, report economists at the Ohio States university.

Broilers of heavy breeds bring about 10 cents a pound more than the light breeds, Ohio farm poultry records show.

Motorists Save BridgeTolls by Crossing on Ice

Superior, Wis.—That ice has other values than that of preserving food and supporting skaters is proved daily here.

During the summer months, motorists traveling between Duluth and Superior must cross the interstate toll bridge of the Great Northern railroad.

Winter, however, provides a natural bridge of ice and motorists are quick to take advantage of the "winter free bridge" and save the toll charge. It is estimated that between $50,000 and $60,000 will be saved by motorists during the sixty days of ice travel.

Hereditary Foes

Cats and dogs are enemies because their ancestors were, and—quite unconsciously—the descendants maintain the family tradition! The dog's ancestor was a wolf, whose chief victim was the cat's ancestor, the wildcat. Another cat's ancestor, the tiger, terrorized another dog's ancestor, the jackal. This explains the family feud that exists today.

CHICKS FORM BAD HABITS IF OVERCROWDED

Poor chicks are often made after buying or hatching good ones. Crowding may do it.

Overcrowding chicks in the brooder house causes many losses from crowding, toe picking, tail picking and other bad habits they may learn, R. E. Cray, extension specialist in poultry at the Ohio State university says.

The usual rule is to provide one square foot of floor space for every four chicks. Thus a house 10x12 feet will accommodate about 480 to 500 chicks. If the number is kept to 400 however, they will do better in every way.

Be sure that the stove installed is large enough to keep the flock from chilling thru any cold snap that may come during the brooding season. Most of the stoves on the market are overrated, Mr. Cray believes. It is best to buy a stove that is at least one size larger than its rating.

The large stoves carry more fuel. This makes it possible to hold the fire thru a long cold night without getting up in the cold to replenish it.

Special care should be taken where oil is used to heat the brooder house. It is imperative that the stove be capable of generating enough heat for zero weather. A large percentage of the oilstoves will not do this in an ordinary brooder house.

China's Grand Canal

The Grand canal of China reaches from Hangchowfu, in the province of Chebkiang, to Tientsin. It is composed largely of canalized rivers and is approximately 650 miles long. The depth varies, ranging from 7 to 11 feet, occasionally reaching a depth of 13 feet at high water. Between Suchow and Chinkiang it is often a hundred feet wide.

AMUSEMENTS

"The False Alarm," the Columbia fire thriller, now showing at the Met theater, is one of the most entertaining films of the season. There is nothing faked about the fire scenes in this film, and they are assembled in a way that successfully sustains the vivid vein of suspense threaded thru-out. One of the best casts that could possibly have been selected for the story, appears in the picture, containing names that are reminiscent of many other popular film successes. They are Ralph Lewis, one of the screen's best character actors, Mary Carr veteran of mother roles; John Harron, brother of, and similar to the famous Bobby now deceased; Dorothy Revier, talented as an actress and also a prize winning beauty; George O'Hara, who made a recent hit with John Barrymore in "The Sea Beast" William Franey, Lillian Leighton and Arthur Hoyt, creating the comedy of the picture and Priscilla Bonner, also well known, who gives one of the best performances in the picture.

The story contains a real moral embodied in the courage of a coward, who feared fire and resolved to conquer himself by taking a job in a steel mill, tending the great furnaces. Scenes in the steel mill are thrilling. The scene where John Harron as Joe Casey, rushes to the rescue of a fellow laborer about to be burned to death by an overflow of molten metal from a swinging crucible is tremendously realistic. In short "The False Alarm" is one of the hits of the season for realism and human interest. The director, Frank O'Connor, has succeeded in stamping romance into a production that is frankly melodramatic.

of Sheep, Kill Forty-two

Moscow.—A great flock of mountain eagles, darkening the sky, swooped down on the meadows of the Dagestan republic and killed forty-two sheep in one mass attack, according to word received by the Soviet commissary of agriculture. The terrified shepherds, accustomed to beating off the attacks of single eagles, fled when the big birds descended on their flocks in mass formation. It was estimated that at least 100 eagles participated in the raid from the sky.

URGE TAX LEVY FOR CROSSINGS

Columbus, March 10.—Resolution by Representative R. W. Emmons, Columbiana county, proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize issuance of $25,000,000 of bonds to finance the state's share of a state-wide grade crossing elimination program, was killed Wednesday by the Ohio House of Representatives Committee on Highways.

The vote was on a motion to postpone indefinitely further consideration of the resolution. The committee then voted unanimously to include in the Norton highway bill a grade crossing elimination plan, details of which will be worked out later.

It was tentatively suggested that funds for the state's share in the cost of the proposed elimination program should be provided by a direct state levy of one-tenth of a mill over a period of 10 or 15 years. Such a levy would yield $1,300,000 a year.

LOANS UP TO $500

It may be a bit ungenerous, but we like to think we are like Edgar Guest, for we both write our messages to, of and for "The Average Man."

All our loans are made to Average Folks and it's common gossip that City Loan loses mighty little money from bad accounts. We have found the "Average Man" fair and honorable. One hears faint rumors of the dishonesty and unreliability of modern men, but—well we suppose there are some such, but there are not many among City Loan's 25,000 borrowing friends and patrons.

EXONERATED

Former Wife Says She Implicated Them In Spirit of Revenge.

After implicating her former husband, Ray Tootle, and his brother, Lawrence, both of Columbus, in a robbery and hold-up of a Huntington, W. Va., meat market, Lulu Klein, now confined in the Huntington jail as an accomplice in the crime, has admitted that the Columbus men had no connection with the hold-up.

The attempt to implicate her former husband and his brother was made, the girl told Huntington police, when she was under the influence of narcotics. Based upon her original story, the Tootle brothers had been arrested in Ohio and had successfully fought extradition to West Virginia, and her latest confession completely exonerates them from complicity in the crime.

Domestic difficulties which caused her husband to divorce her last fall, and her inability to care for her 18-months-old baby, drove her to the use of narcotics, she said.

One of the bandits, slain during the holdup, was first identified as her husband, and then when the latter was found alive in Columbus she changed her story to implicate him in order to "get even" with him for deserting her, she said.

The Huntington robbery occurred on the night of Jan. 15, and it was several weeks later that the Tootle brothers were brought into the affair.

The girl claims to have been a former Ohio State University coed and to have specialized in music while there.

The Tootle brothers are grandsons of Mrs. Frank Tootle, of Williamsport, and attended school there about fifteen years ago. Their many friends there will be glad to learn that they have been exonerated from all blame in connection with the Huntington holdup.

TIRE MAGNATE
WEEPS IN COURT

Toledo, March 9.—F. A. Seiberling, Ohio tire magnate, who is fighting the Dillon, Reed & Co., Wall Street financial interests for control of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., in Toledo Federal Court, wept today as he told how two friends, one known to be John N. Willys, saved him when his business opponents had backed him to the wall.

Seiberling testified that he owns the Prudential Securities & Realty Co., of Cleveland, whose assets include 120,000 shares of Goodyear common stock, and that he owed, around the end of last year, $6,000,000 on loans and notes, with his Prudential assets posted as collateral.

In the first two months of this year, he testified, banks were pressing him for payment.

Feb. 21, he testified, a prominent Toledo business man put up 15,000 shares of Willys-Overland stock, then worth about $300,000, with the Prudential Co. to bind a contract Seiberling made with Edgar B. Davis, who was putting up $500,000 cash.

Davis, once president of the United States Rubber Co., had sold out his Texas Oil interests at $16,000,000 to the Magnolia Petroleum Co., Seiberling testified, and Feb. 21, Davis contracted with the Prudential, guaranteeing to pay all its debts by the end of 1927. If he did so the assets of the Prudential-Seiberling's Goodyear stock were to pass to him; if not, the stock was to revert to Seiberling.

WESTERVILLE BUS
SERVICE ANNULLED

Order Follows Ruling Of Ohio Supreme Court.

Columbus, March 10.—Columbus-Westerville bus line Wednesday, under order from the Public Utilities Commission, abandoned the transportation of through passengers between the two cities.

The order, effective upon its receipt by the Red Star Bus Co. Wednesday, follows a decision of the Ohio Supreme Court rendered recently, sustaining the complaint of the Columbus Railway, Power & Light Co., which operates a traction line between Columbus and Westerville.

The busses may receive and discharge passengers between the Columbus corporation line and Stop 25, two and a half miles south of Westerville, from where the car line parallels the bus into Westerville.

The busses may, under the order, receive passengers on the remainder of the route from Stop 25 to Westerville, who are being transported out of the triangle described by the bus and traction lines.

The busses, the court order stipulates, "shall not, at any time be used for the transportation of the public from Westerville into Columbus nor from Columbus into Westerville."

The Rail-Light Co. protested that the bus line served a territory to which it had already been offering service.

The play was "Julius Caesar," and no expense had been spared in the production. MRS. O. SCOTT DIED AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

In Wayne Township Thursday, Funeral Services at Mt. Pleasant Church.

Jeanette Ellen Scott died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grover Stonerock, Wayne township, Thursday, March 10, 1927, at 12 o'clock noon, after a long illness. She was the daughter of John and Roseanna Sissney Haynes and was born near Omega, Pike county on the 19th day of May, 1873.

In February, 1892, she was united in marriage to Oscar Scott and to this union were born eight children who, with the husband still survives; Mrs. Grover Stonerock, Wayne township; Roseanna Stinson, Mrs. Fredia Schumm, Bonindine Mogan, Holland Scott, of Circleville; Charles W. Scott and Eloise and Margaret, at home.

She is also survived by the following brothers and sisters; Mrs. Belle Hartley, of Iowa; Mrs. Cornelia Kerns, Cleveland; Mrs. Alice Cryder, of Michigan; William J. Haynes, Richmondale; Charles E. Haynes, Waverly.

The body was removed Thursday evening to the home of her daughter, Roseanna Stinson, East Mound street.

She was a member of the Circleville Methodist Episcopal church and the funeral will be from the Mt. Pleasant M. E. church Sunday at 10:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Clifford, and interment in Springlawn cemetery.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES ARE INTERESTING

Judges 16:20. "And he awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times before, and shake myself. And he wist not that the Lord was departed from him."

This man Sampson lived a holy life, but he made a mistake early in life. He married a Philistine woman. He did not say he loved her but he took a fancy to her. Love is something bigger than that. "Be not unequally yoked together with unbelievers." Sampson was a man of great strength he was the pride of his people and the terror of his enemies, but he fell. You must read the Bible, hold on to God and obey the Holy Spirit or you will fail.

Love of money is another Delilah. You don't have to be a millionaire to love money. You can put a dollar between you and God and some folks won't give their heart to God for fear it will cost them something. Any one thing that you keep between your soul and God is the very thing that can push you into the pit of eternal burning.

Spiritual laziness or indifference. Laziness in prayer. You can no more get along without your three meals a day than you can without prayer. Do not go to your work, school or shop without a good feed on the word and prayer.

Sampson arose after his hair was off, after his eyes were out and wist not that the power had departed from him. So I see professing Christians testifying as at other times and don't seem to know that the spirit has departed from them. There is a possibility of back-sliding unless we hold on to what God has given us, but if we come back to the place we left Him He will take us in again.

Doctor Fatally Hurt Diagnoses Own Injury

London.—Knocked down and run over by his own car, Dr. Sidney Wood, sixty-two, physician and surgeon, waved away those who went to assist him, and carefully examined himself.

"Don't trouble to move me to a hospital," he said at length. "Leave me here because I know that I shall be dead soon. I cannot move my legs; my spine is fractured."

He had cranked his car when it was in gear after attending a patient in Bottisham, near Cambridge. An ambulance was called and before being lifted into it Doctor Wood shook hands with those around him and asked them to say good-by for him to his friends and neighbors.

His diagnosis proved correct. He died the next day.

Blizzard and Snowstorm

The weather bureau says that a blizzard is a very cold, strong to violent wind filled with driving snow. The snow may or may not be falling from clouds above. A snowstorm is just any storm, regardless of the wind velocity and temperature, during which an appreciable amount of snow falls.
